Why do you want to be an egg donor and if you had a message for your recipient what would it be?	The reason behind me wanting to be an egg donor is the pain and that is portrayed by a number of women who are unable to conceive. I want to bring joy and happiness to the women who have given up on the hope of ever having children, I hate the fact that most of those women end up feeling less of women due to being unable to conceive. Marriages are falling apart because of this matter, so therefore I want to be the glue that mends those broken hearts and homes.
