Today the 10th of December 2019 I came to Cape Town to make sure you are here... you have some sign of presence and life ... so now I may feed, grow and get you ready to leave me and find your real home ...

my littlest "Sekani" that's what I chose to call you.. meaning my Joy 💙

Now I begin to take care of you and keep you healthy enough so you can be taken to your new home I your Mom

I shall hold you for a few months more I shall make u a strong 💪 little fighter...

and when I let you go I want you to be the best you can and bring happiness to your new home cause that's what you are destined to do \heartsuit

02 January 2020

Today I started my cycle... and my active contraceptive pill...

Soon I will commence with my injections to grow our baby so he may go to his mom and become the most beautiful baby ever

My family is very supportive of my decision and I am glad I have parents who know the beauty of this process as my mum is nurse and in her department she sees this happening all the time $\bigcirc \bigcirc 1$ am so happy to be apart of this

I haven't written for a while... been a little bit up and down with the pill which made me feel sick on one day and moody on one and just perfect on the other Nd then the next completely emotional and crying for no apparent reason.... and through all of this.. the thought of Giving this gift to another woman has made my heart all warm and fuzzy and created this sense of determination in my soul.... but today is my last pill \bigcirc

And I'm getting closer and closer to handing over this gift of life to my beautiful Recipient.... on the 25th I shall commence with my injections I am scared but this experience has been and will grow me more \heartsuit emotionally and mentally \heartsuit

25th January 2020

I started my injections today 🚀

I was so scared I I have never poked myself before or injected myself

But for you 💙 I shall fight the fear and i have and I did it 💙

It actually was not as bad as I thought it was made me abit sick but let's see how it goes 😊

26th January 2020

Day 2 of my injections and I feel sick it's been a rough night... but it may not be the meds as Dr said so... but I have terrible cramps and so nauseous.... these cramps are scary but for you I shall endure \heartsuit

I have bruises on my tummy... the injections are not sore... again let's see how it goes 😊

☆ ☆ I saw this and I thought I would share it with you 💙

"They told you about the contractions, but did they tell you about the expansion? Did they tell you how your body would open to make way for the whole universe to pass through? Did they tell you how your heart would explode with a love bigger than anything you've ever known as you pulled your baby to your chest?

They told you about the ring of fire but did they tell you about the crown of stars?

Did they mention that there's a moment when your baby enters the world and you leave your body and touch the heavens and become the light of a million galaxies? Did they tell you how the pain of stretching to receive your child would be more exquisite than any sensation you've felt?

They told you would scream but did they tell you about how you would roar? Did they tell you about the power that would rise up from your belly as you called your baby forth with your mighty voice?

They told you would bleed, but did they tell you how that sacred blood wouldn't scare you? How you would feel grateful for that magical liquid of life as it trickled down your leg- how you would honor its flow and how it would help you heal a lifetime of hating your body's bleeding cycles.

They told these stories and taught you to fear birth, to fear your power, to fear yourself. But you're stronger and wiser than that mama. You know that birth is your divine dance, your soul's song, your moment with God, and you walk fearlessly into her open arms"

But more so I am so happy for you! I am so proud of the mom u are already!!! 😊

I am crying today not cause of pain or hurt, but because I am so grateful that you chose me to go along this journey with you...

I wish I could hug you and tell you how happy I am... but just know in my heart I think you're gonna be a great mom 🙄 😳

This has made me so humble and so emotionally mature. I am so pleased with myself, every pain, every day of feeling sick and every moment I thought I couldn't do this anymore, it's behind me now and I am so glad I never quit \bigwedge I am so glad god gave me the strength to go through this and make your dream come true!
